Specific additional evidence of conception and diligence from prior to the Critical Date to March 7, 2000, aside from the Document, is not available at least because Microsoft corporate policy directs that email messages from dates this far in the past be deleted. (Note that dates in the revision history of the Document are provided in "DD/MM/YYYY" format, so that, for example, March 7, 2000 is provided as "7/3/2000.")
 6. The subject matter of at least independent claims 1, 28, and 33, which relate, for example and without limitation, to reverse proxy implementations, are described in the Document, in at least section 2.1, "General," section 2.2, "SSL session termination," and section 2.3, "SSL session bridging (dual-hop SSL)," as well as with user interfaces and interaction functionality described and illustrated in section 3. The subject matter of independent claims 14, 31, and 33, which relate, also for example and without limitation, to forward proxy implementations, are also described by the Document, at least in the previously referenced sections as well as section 2.4, "Considerations for forward proxy," as well as with user interfaces and interaction functionality described and illustrated in section 3.
